

Art Memory Keeping Roadmap

From Ch 11: Ignite the Organizer in Your Child

Frustrating Facts: Sorting children's school and artwork is a consistent top challenge parents face every single day.

There is so much volume to sort! How does one even begin to sort it all? What items need to be kept? What can be tossed without the guilt and/or stored appropriately to meet everyone's needs?

Parent Warning: Doing this project solo without the involvement of your child will give you quick short-term results, however, it has grave long term consequences! Without realizing it, you are robbing your child and their brain development of essential decision-making and cognitive skills.

Child Warning: If you want to be an organized, confident and independent kid, these core life skills are what you will need to lean upon every-single-day! They will be essential when doing multi-step projects at home, school and your life beyond.

Time to Choose Your Own Adventure: Grab your Organizing Toolkit™, and review which Final Art Destination you desire to go. Then simply follow the numbered road signs to guide you every step of the way.

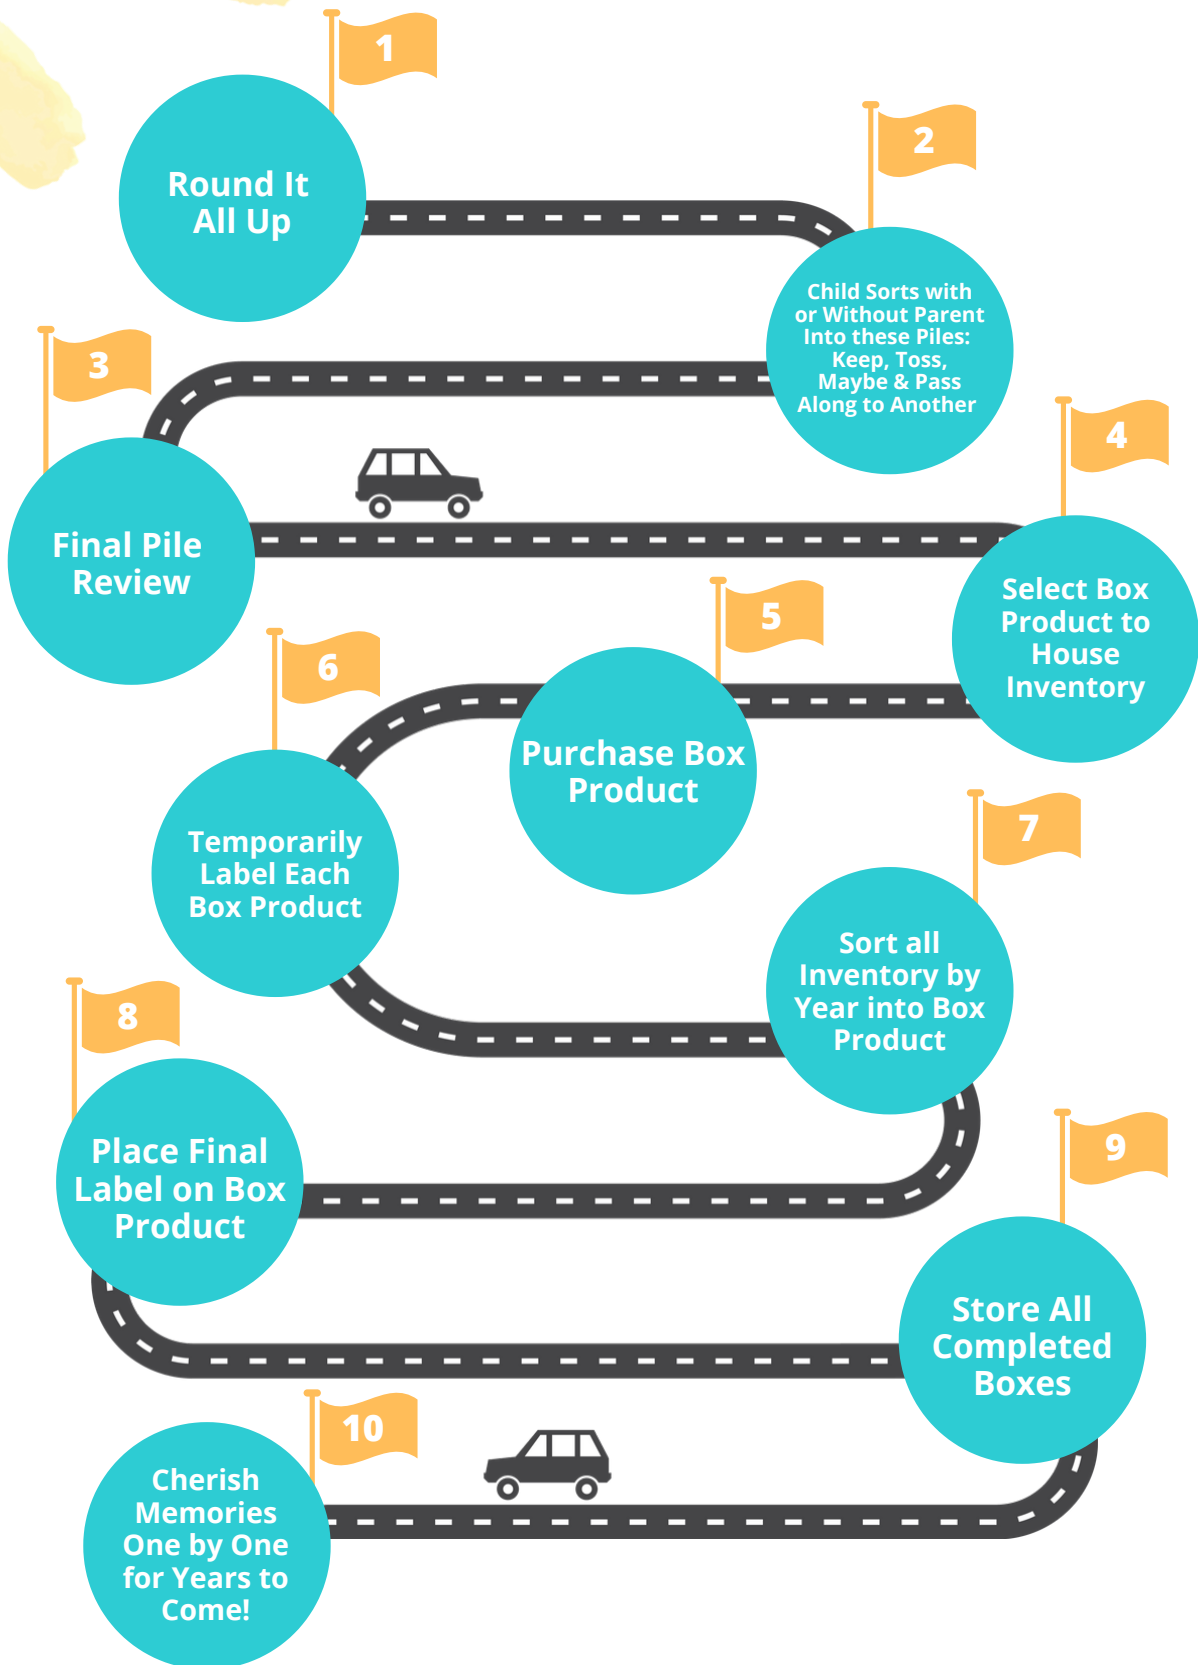

Now Everyone is Roadtrip Ready! May this Epic Organizing Adventure be one you tackle together, experience together, and cherish together for many years to come!

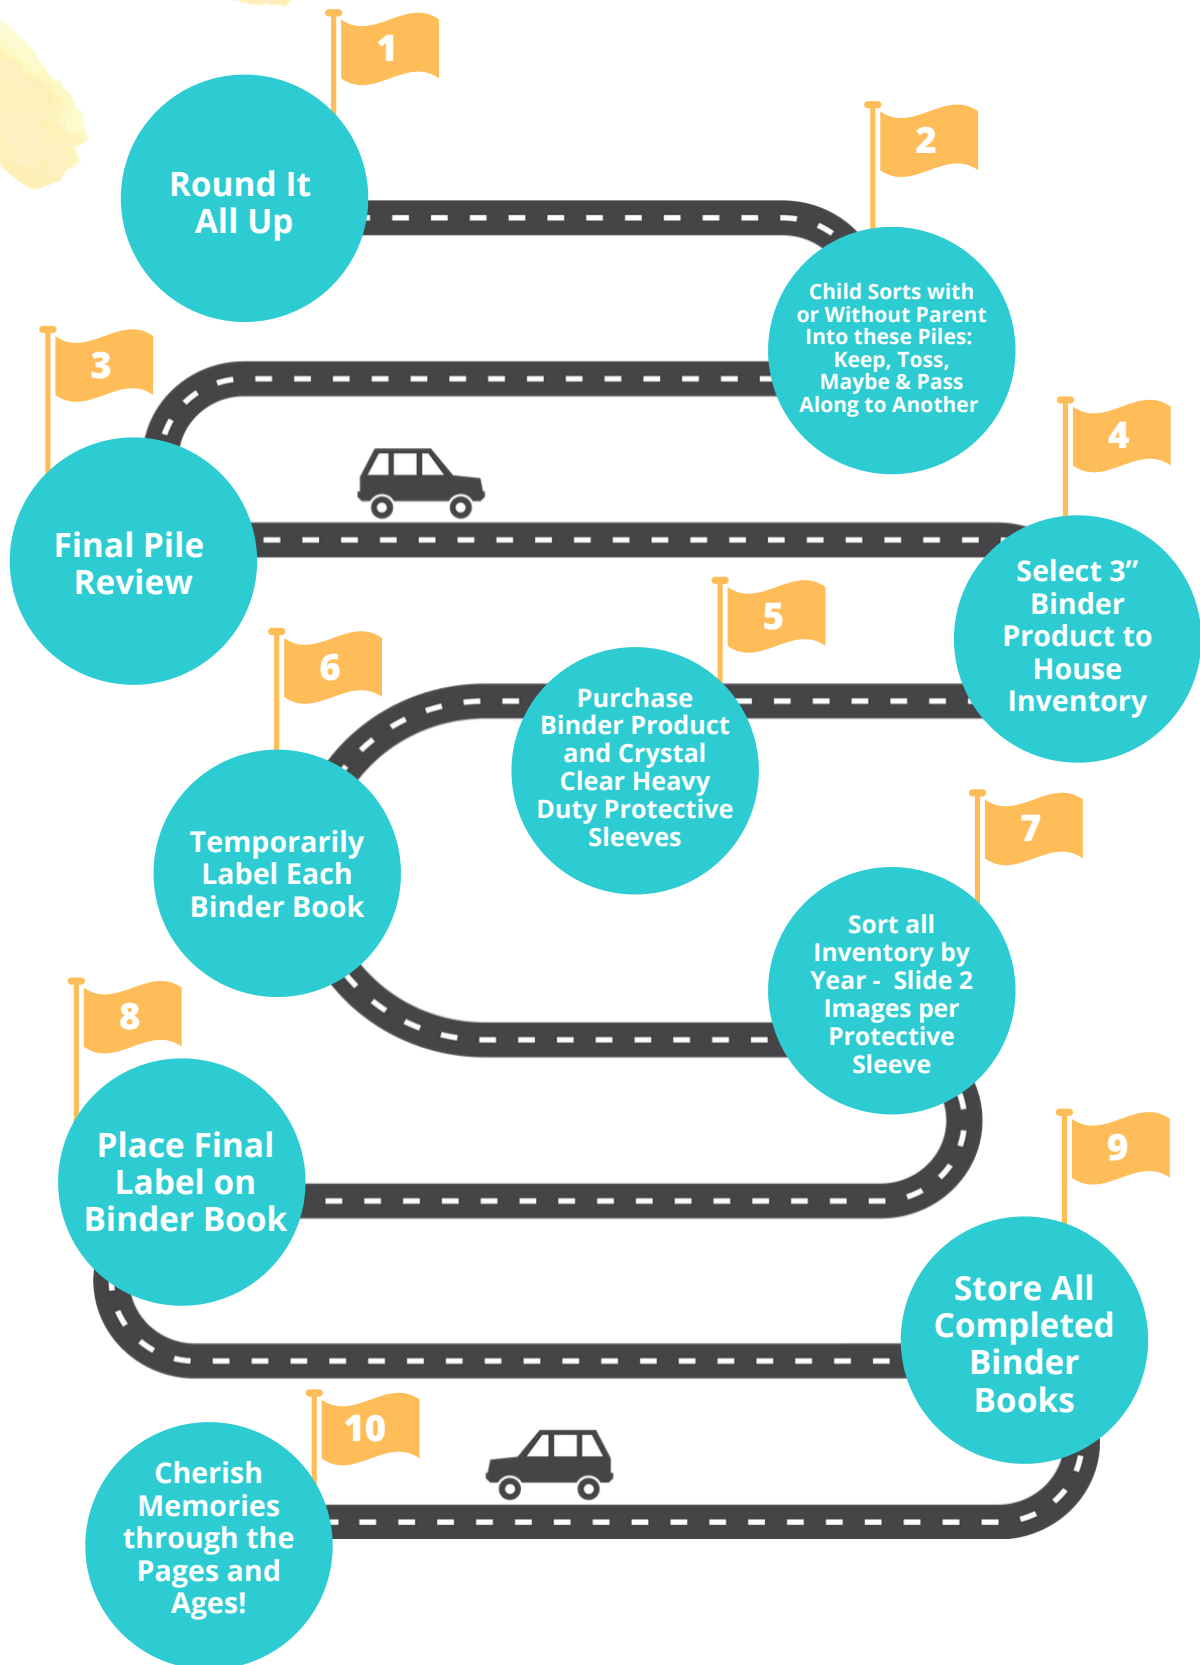

WurthOrganizing.com

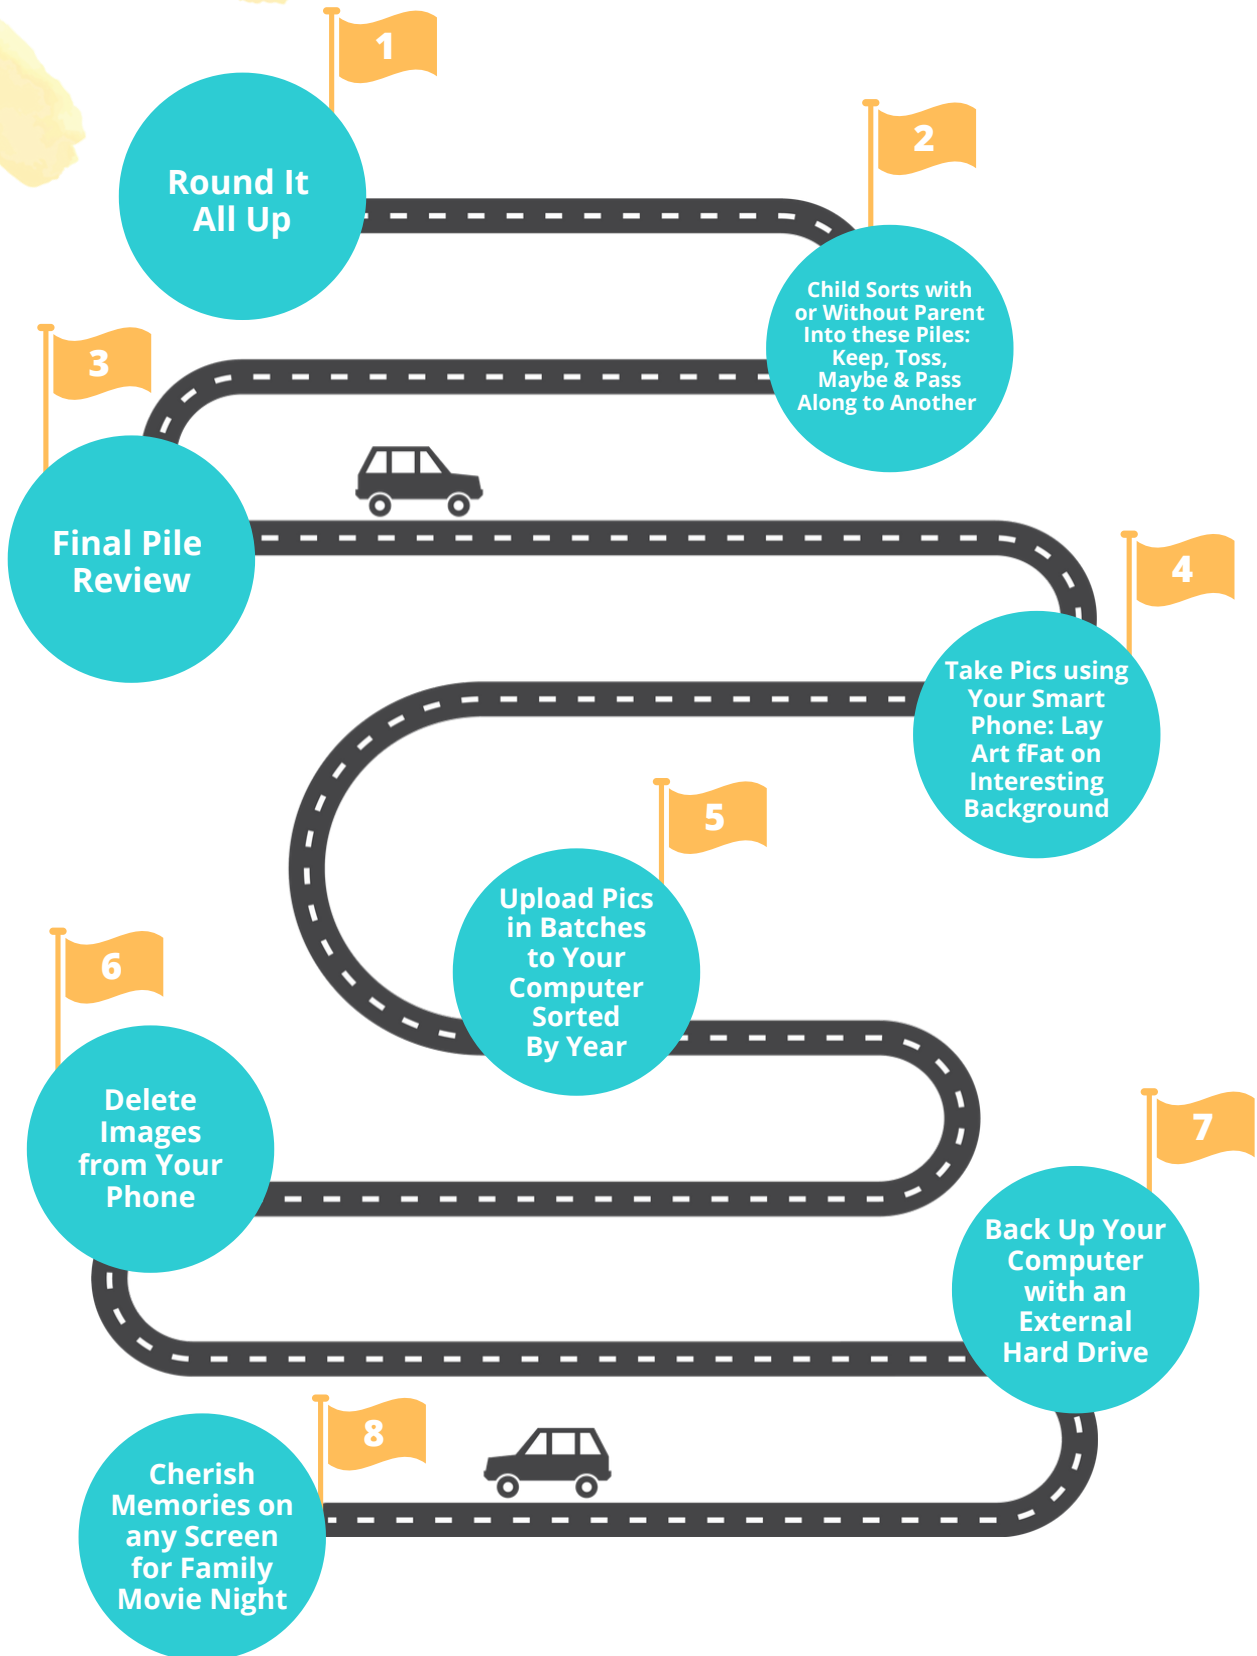

Final Art Destination: Cherished in an Archived Safe Box

Final Art Destination: Cherished in a Protective Binder Book

Final Art Destination: Digitally Cherished for Family Movie Night

Final Art Destination: Digitally Cherished in a Photobook + Unique Gift Giving

